

HELPFUL STRATEGIES

Points Challenge

You have just landed on a square requiring a point challenge, who do you challenge? If one of your opponents is close to winning DON'T challenge them, pick someone with less points or who is less skilled at the challenge than you are.

Using Your Power Player

You may choose to play this game aggressively; this can work to your advantage as you may be able to eliminate your opponents by taking away their uniform. BUT be careful, your opponents may gang up on you.

Using Your Extra Point Player

Your Extra Point Player is very important. You can accumulate points very quickly when you use it for point challenges. This also makes your Extra Point Player a target for your opponents, especially if you are using it frequently.

Escaping Your Opponents Power Player

If you are being pursued by an opponent's Power Player there are some things you can do, try to get back to your team square, make a break for Spring Training, aim for the square which transports you to the other end of the board or look for the square which enables you to move to any space on the board.

Your Opponent is Close to Winning the Game

Don't you hate it when that happens? All is not lost, create an ally in one of the other opponents, if the opponent closest to winning has lost a considerable amount of their uniform or playing pieces go after their weakness and don't challenge them to any point's challenges.

Short on Points

If you are lacking in points and need to do some serious scoring use your Extra Point Player but keep your Power Player close by and use it for protection. Your opponents will try to go after you but will also be intimidated by your Power Player.
